

Houston Police Department

Houston, Texas

The Houston Police Department is the primary law enforcement agency serving the City of Houston and several of its surrounding areas. This police department has demonstrated sustained, unparalleled support of its Guard and Reserve members. The department provides flexible scheduling for military leave, full pay for certain periods of service, all benefits and a dedicated human resources technician to ensure smooth transitions for Service members as they leave for military service and return to their positions. Most notable is the incredible support the Houston Police provided to a fellow officer who was injured and hospitalized for 8 months due to a combat related injury. After recovery the service member was returned to full duty and resumed both his military and police responsibilities. The department continued to provide support to him and his unit sending care packages, checking in on family members, and ensuring that he was doing well. www.hpdcareer.com
